The closing exercises of this Institution which occupied a portion of the past week, ular institution commenced on Monday night, were quite interesting, and afforded much June 6th, with declamation by speakers chopleasure to all who attended. He took as the basis of his sermon, the first and second verses of the first chapter of 1st. Peter. It was an excellent discourse and was listened to with marked at-

On Tuesday night William W. Holden, Esq., Editor of the Standard, delivered an address to the young ladies before a large and intelligent audience at the Methodist Church. We shall not attempt a sketch of his address,. as we presume it will be published and all can have an opportunity of reading it. But suffice it to say, that it was an able address, replete with good advice and beautiful sentiments. Before closing he exhorted the young ladies to "study the Bible," and displayed to them in an eloquent manner, the beauty and sublimity of the sentiments contained in the "Sacred Volume." We have never heard a more appropriate address on a similar occasion.

On Wednesday night a concert of vocal and instrumental music was given by the young ladies at the spacious school room on Hillsboro' street. The room was handsomely decorated with wreaths and festoons of evergreen and flowers, and on the walls were suspended a number of well executed paintings, showing that the pupils were well instructed in the ornamental branches.

Long before the time for the commencement of the exercises, the room was crowded to overflowing with an appreciative audience. The concert passed off very pleasantly. We shall not attempt to discriminate between the different pieces performed, but we will say that the entire performance was highly creditable to the young ladies and gave abundant evidence that Mrs. Whitaker and Miss Nellie Cooke, the accomplished instructors in the musical department, had spared no pains to give their pupils a thorough musical education. We were particular struck with the performance of little "Ina Wilson" on the Piano and Guitar. She certainly possesses a degree of musical talent rarely found in one of her age. During the concert, the following young ladies read compositions:

MISS BLANCH FENTRESS, Raleigh. 'Earth has no sorrows that heaven cannot heal.

MISS LAURA LIPSCOME, Raleigh 'Friendship alas! is too often but a name. MISS SARAH YELLOCK, Person Co. N. C. 'The pleasures of Thought.'

MISS BETTIE LITTLE, Raleigh. 'The improvements of the present age.'

Commencment at Chapel Hill.

The visit of President Buchanan and Secretary Thompson, besides the literary and social attractions annually offered, collected together an immense crowd during the commencement. Rev. D. S. Dogget, D. D. of Virginia, preached the annual sermon to the Senior Class, and the Hon. Duncan K. Mc-Rae, of North Carolina, delivered the address before the Literary Societies. President Buchanan and Secretary Thompson were received and welcomed to the University, by Gov. Swain, to which they responded in a felicitous manner. The President was very much pleased with the exercises during his

JOHN B. GOUGH is completely triumphant in his libel suits in England, and his friends have paid his lawyer's bills and given him a hundred pounds besides. Mr. Gough has shown his generosity by paying the expenses of his antagonist, Dr. Lees, to keep him from jail. The only bad thing about it for Mr. Gongh is, that his friends feel the necessity of continually bolstering him up with certificates of character. It leads his old friends in this country to fear that he is still shaky in his temperance practice, although sound and eloquent in theory.

THE CROPS .- A few complain that the crop of wheat is not as abundant as was expected; but, in general, the farmers' reports are favorable. Oats never looked finer; and seasonable weather will produce corn in great plenty. Our farmers have reason to be encouraged, and all ought to feel thankful.

Newbern, May 31, 1859. $50 REWARD, DEAD OR ALIVE. RAN WAY in August, 1858, my boy MADI-SON. He is of a dark copper color, 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high, and about 22 years old; he has several scars about his legs and feet, cut by nearly a square; high forehead, and when combed his hair stands up very straight. He has good features, but when spoken to roughly has a down. cast look. His range is between Neuse River and Moccasin Creek; but has relations scattered over Wake county, and an aunt living at Mr. Henry Porter's in Raleigh. I will give the above reward for his delivery to me or confined in some jail so I can get him, or taken dead or alive. HILLIARD W. JONES. Wake county, May 20th, 1859.
